"Dorothy Day dedicated her life fighting for justice for the homeless in New York City and was co-founder of the Catholic Worker Movement. Her biographies describe a political activist who participated in protest marches and developed friendships with famous artists and writers. Day's life was marked by fidelity to the Scriptures, voluntary poverty, the works of mercy and work for peace and justice. She was shot at while working for integration and prayed and fasted for peace at the Second Vatican Council. She died November 29, 1980, at Mary house in New York City, where she died among the poor."

The Diocesan Social Justice Commission requests prayers for all unborn babies in danger of abortion. A sample prayer entitled Spiritual Adoption Prayer is as follows: "Jesus, Mary and Joseph, with love for you I ask your intercession to protect the life of unborn children. May they all come to birth healthy and be a source of joy to their parents. For those in danger because of abortion, I adopt them as my own and pray for them and their mothers."

THE CATHOLIC UNIVERSITY of AMERICA

OFFICE OF BISHOP

Collection dates: September 10-11, 2016

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

I appeal to you today to give generously to the National Collection for The Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C. Catholic University is the national university of the Catholic Church – the only institution of higher education founded by the U.S. bishops and chartered by the Vatican. The Catholic University of America educates clergy, religious, and young lay men and women from every geographical region of the United States.

Here are just two ways it serves Catholic faithful throughout the United States:

- Nearly 500 Catholic parishes participate in the University's Parish Scholarship Program, through which 1,500 undergraduates are nominated by their pastors to receive annual scholarships valued at $4.5million. Your gift helps to make our students' experience at Catholic University of America possible.
- Through its national seminary, the University provides graduate degrees for seminarians sponsored by nearly 195 U.S. Catholic dioceses. Two of our more recently ordained priests graduated from this university. More than 100 active and emeritus bishops and archbishops are Catholic University alumni.
- Catholic University serves God through serving others in the United States and abroad. Students volunteer with hundreds of organizations, including the Little Sisters of the Poor, Habitat for Humanity, Catholic Charities and St. Ann's Infant and Maternity Home. They deliver food to people who are homeless, serve in soup kitchens and shelters and tutor in afterschool programs. They also volunteer for mission service trips at a number of international mission sites. Your gift offers students a unique opportunity to prepare for a lifetime of faith and service.

It is my sincere hope that you will contribute generously to support America's Catholic university and the countless number of students who will aspire to attain an education grounded in Catholic tradition.

Sincerely in the love of Christ,

+ Robert D. Gruss

Dear Padre

What if a child doesn't want to make health decisions for parent?

Q My mother has appointed me to make health-care decisions on her behalf if and when she is unable to do so for herself. I have prayed and thought about this, and for many reasons I don't want to do this. I feel guilty and fear that by refusing I would show a lack of respect for her wishes. Do you have any advice?

I will respond by making two points. First, you are free to decline your mother's request. You have no intrinsic or moral obligation to assume this responsibility. If you don't feel you could fulfill the duties of that role properly, tell your mother and ask her to choose someone else.

I would also like to point out that you may be making more out of this responsibility than is warranted. Your duties as a medical or health-care power of attorney are called upon only "if and when" your mother becomes incapacitated. If she hasn't already, your mother would fill out and sign an advance directive that indicates her intentions and preferences concerning the use of any extraordinary means of health care. You would not have to make independent decisions; you would only have to follow through on decisions she has already made. Finally, you would have your family and the medical team to guide you. All your mother asks is that you, rather than a stranger, oversee the implementation of her directives.

We have more material wealth than almost any society in history. We live longer, eat better (or at least more), and dwell more comfortable. Amid all this incredible stuff, it's easy to lose sight of the things that really matter, which are mostly not things.

Ordinary Time

September 4, 2016 ♦ Twenty-third Sunday in Ordinary Time (C)

Wis 9:13–18b ♦ Phlm 9–10, 12–17 ♦ Lk 14:25–33

In my family, three members like to plan for what's ahead: What are we going to do? How will it get done? How are we going to get there? What will happen when we do? I can tolerate certain changes up until the day we leave, but after that, change is difficult for me. My daughter hates change at any point and does not rest until a revised plan is made. My husband lies somewhere in between. Our other daughter is a much more freewheeling spirit. "I never make plans that far in advance," she would say when I asked her what she was doing that evening. We would often just stare at each other in wonder. After thirty years, we have also rubbed off on each other in some ways.

Becoming a disciple of Christ takes both planning and flexibility. The planning comes in preparing ourselves to let go of anything that gets in the way of our service to the Lord. For most of us, that will not be our parents, but it might be something or someone in our society or culture. Jesus' challenge comes in the realization that nothing can come between Christ and us—not even our parents—and if they did, we would need to turn from them in order to follow him. The flexibility comes in the understanding that we do not know what or who we might have to give up, or the moment and manner in which Christ will ask us to pick up our cross and follow in his footsteps. All we can do is pray for the grace and courage to do what he asks when he asks it.
