Twenty-fifth Sunday in Ordinary Time

We show our respect for the Creator by our stewardship of creation. Care for the earth is not just an Earth Day slogan, it is a requirement of our faith. We are called to protect people and the planet, living our faith in relationship with all of God's creation. This environmental challenge has fundamental moral and ethical dimensions that cannot be ignored.

Young People Survey

The Vatican is preparing for a Synod of Bishops on the topic of "Young People, the Faith, and Vocational Discernment," to be held in October 2018. They are collecting information based on several questions that they have put out in order to gather information for drafting the work-document Instrumentum Laboris. And so, they would like as many people as possible — especially ages 16-29, but also adults ages 30 and up, to participate in a survey. Our feedback will have an impact on this Synod of Bishops and their discussion. Fill out the survey online at: <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/Synod2018Input>.

Dave Ramsey's Financial Peace University

presented by Thomas & Jadviga Strubel

Hello,

We had our sixth FPU class this past Tuesday. We have made so much progress and have learned so much. We talked about how important insurance is for a solid financial plan. Insurance protects you by transferring risk. Pay to transfer the risks you can't afford. Next we will learn about how to save for kid's college and retirement.

Last Week's Lesson:

The Role of Insurance

In this lesson, Dave walks you through the world of insurance, carefully explaining what you need—and what you need to avoid.

Here is a little preview of last week's lesson from Dave Ramsey.com:

Insurance is like a life jacket. It's a bit of a nuisance when you don't need it, but when you do need it, you're more than thankful to have it. Without it, you could be one car wreck, illness or house fire away from drowning—not in the ocean, but in debt. But for something so essential to our financial well-being, insurance is a complicated—even uncomfortable—topic. So we've boiled your options down to the eight types of insurance policies you can't go without. While each one is a must-have, you should consult an independent insurance agent to help you find the right types of insurance customized to fit your needs.

Here are the eight types of insurance Dave Ramsey recommends:

1. Auto Insurance
2. Homeowners/Renters Insurance
3. Umbrella Policy
4. Health Insurance
5. Long-Term Disability Insurance
6. Term Life Insurance
7. Long-Term Care Insurance
8. Identity Theft Protection

Retirement and College Planning

Dave walks you through the maze of retirement options and helps you figure out your best retirement plan.

Dear Padre,

Why don't we end the Our Father with an Amen during Mass? When we pray the Our Father outside of Mass, we conclude by saying, "Amen."

I remember this discussion growing up. My father noticed that the pastor of our parish insisted on saying "Amen" after the Our Father by adding his very loud "Amen!" and inviting parishioners to follow.

We know early Christians prayed the Our Father daily, though its inclusion in the eucharistic liturgy happens later, and its placement in the liturgy is not yet consistent. An early reference to the placement of the Our Father from a late-fourth-century text places it at the end of the eucharistic prayer (A Commentary on the Order of Mass of The Roman Missal, 597). Here the people would have responded with the final petition, "deliver us from evil" or "Amen" (597).

Today the Our Father is part of the Communion rite, but we do not end the

Our Father with an Amen because in the current structure of the Communion rite the Our Father forms part of a unit. Immediately following the Our Father, the celebrant elaborates on the final petition ("deliver us from evil"). He then says the prayer for peace, which concludes with an Amen. These elements are all connected, one flowing to the next and culminating with the people saying, "Amen" ("Mystagogical Implications," A Commentary on the Order of Mass of The Roman Missal, 616). Thus, we do conclude the Our Father with an Amen at Mass, but because it is part of a larger prayer during the Mass, the Amen doesn't immediately follow "deliver us from evil."

A Word From Pope Francis

"Some of you said that this system cannot endure. We must change it. We must put human dignity back at the center and on that pillar build the alternative social structures we need. This must be done with courage but also with intelligence, with tenacity but without fanaticism, with passion yet without violence. And all of us together, addressing the conflicts without getting trapped in them, always seeking to resolve the tensions in order to reach a higher plane of unity, of peace, and of justice. We Christians have something very lovely, a guide to action...the Beatitudes...(see Matthew 5 and Luke 6)...and the Last Judgment passage (Matthew 25)."

—Address at the World Meeting of Popular Movements, October 28, 2014

Piece: The Conversion of St. Paul, 1542–45

Artist: Michelangelo

Location: Pauline Chapel, Apostolic Palace, Vatican City

A Message of Reform

Alessandro Farnese was elected Pope Paul III in 1534 amidst very difficult times. Martin Luther had left the Church, and many German bishops, along with their kings, were separating from the faith. Part of the push for separation was financial, another part was political, and a third part was spiritual. The papal court and clerical life in Rome were often criticized, encouraging separation.

Pope Paul III started a reform by calling on nine respected cardinals to investigate the accusations and propose measures. The suggestions were received and true reform began to take root—although much of the success was due to the Council of Trent (called by the pope in 1545) and the many saints active at the time: Ignatius, Philip Neri, Teresa of Ávila, Francis de Sales, Charles Borromeo, and others.

Another measure taken was to contract Michelangelo to paint two frescoes in the Papal Pauline Chapel—the conversion of St. Paul and the crucifixion of St. Peter—a kind of sixteenth-century marketing campaign. This chapel would send a message to all popes and the papal court; indeed, the frescoes challenged everyone in the Curia. Amidst the temptation to power and luxury, the pope was saying, “If you want power, it’s the power to serve which requires true conversion and embracing the cross.”

The chapel needed a pithy Latin phrase to drive home this message of reform. It comes from today’s second reading: “To me, life is Christ, and death is gain.” That’s a good phrase to live by as we seek our own ongoing conversion.

—Fr. Mark Haydu, LC

For Reflection

Do I love without strings attached or do I love to get something in return?

“For to me, life is Christ, and death is gain” (Philippians 1:21).
